GEODIS in Spain wins the “Overseas Employer of the Year” award from Investors In People (IIP)

GEODIS in Spain has received IIP’s Silver “Overseas Employer of the Year” award 2022. IIP is an international standard used to assess companies’ people management practices.

Each year, IIP awards top performers for developing and engaging employees in the company’s strategy and organization.

To determine which companies will receive these awards, IIP relies on several criteria: the ability of managers to lead, inspire, empower and engage their employees, and the ways in which they reward and recognize high performers.

“This award recognizes good management practices and the commitment of each of our employees in Spain. It is also the result of the work our teams do every day to satisfy our customers.” said Ivan Sanchez, Managing Director of GEODIS in Spain.

GEODIS in Spain has held IIP’s “Silver” accreditation since 2021, and was able to compete for the first time in the 2022 “Investors In People Awards” and bring home the award.

The company employs 283 employees in 15 locations in Spain.
